—NEA Telephone

Hardly waiting for the heat of battle to cool, American forces moved right in to clean out snipers in the ruins of Garapan, capital of Saipan, when the Jap strong-hold fell with the loss of 16,000 Jap lives, including that of Vice Admiral Chihachi Nagumo who directed the blow at Pearl Harbor, according to Admiral Chester Nimitz' communique.

Russians Maintain 'Break-Neck Pace in Drive Against foe'

Berlin Reports Reds' Front Extended to Over 500 Miles

London, July 15—(AP)—The Germans announced today that the Russians have launched a long-awaited offensive in southern Poland—extending to 500 miles a front which in the north challenges the last-ditch string of forts guarding the Junker homeland in East Prussia, now less than 20 miles ahead of the Red army.

The German high command said the Russians struck from north-west of Tarnopol, where they last were reported within 30 miles of strategic Lwow, and west of Luck, 120 miles southeast of Lublin, which guards the southeast approaches to Warsaw.

A drive from Luck also would pose a southern flanking threat to Brest-Litovsk fortress town, secured by two wars, which stands on the main line west to Warsaw and anchors the enemy's Bug river defenses.

"Some Russian penetrations were eliminated in counter-blows," the Berlin radio said of the new offensive.

Moscow, habitually silent on new operations until they are well developed had not mentioned any new drive south of the Pripjat marshes.

Keep Breakneck Pace

The Russians kept up their breakneck pace through wavering defenses as they struck on in the Baltic states toward the fortified line guarding East Prussia. The British radio said in a broadcast beamed to Europe that the Germans had begun to dismount installations in the East Prussian fortress port of Königsberg.

(CBS recording a broadcast by London saying the Russians had begun shelling Gdansk, old Polish fortress town guarding the approaches to southern East Prussia.)

Moscow dispatches said the Russians were within seven miles of Gdansk.

Street barricades were being thrown up in Gdansk, Bialystok and Brest-Litovsk, keystones of the defense line, and the Germans were reported bent on a fight to the death in these cities.

Prescott Resigns as Chairman of Illinois Petroleum Commission

State Sen. Nicholas Hubbard of Mount Pulaski will succeed State Rep. Lyle M. Prescott of Dixon as chairman of the joint legislative commission to investigate the rationing of petroleum and petroleum products in Illinois.

Nicholas yesterday was named to head the commission after Prescott resigned to take a lieutenant's commission in the Navy.

Prescott, in Geneva yesterday for a commission hearing, told reporters it was "unfair" that "operators are allocated whatever amount of gasoline they estimate they need, while '68 per cent of the motor vehicle owners are holders of A cards and only get what they are given'."

The commission, which has five members, will make no formal report until the next meeting of the legislature. Prescott said the commission was appointed by the 63rd general assembly in 1915.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

If further proof were needed of the desperate straits of Hitlerdom it would be found in Nazi Minister Joseph Goebbels' latest publication, which the United States Office of War Information describes as "an implicit appeal to the United States and Britain to soften their demands for unconditional surrender."

Goebbels' plea is contained in an article distributed by the official German DNB agency and recorded in this country by the Federal Communications Commission. It isn't by any means the first effort of its kind made recently by the Hitlerites "since there have been at least half a dozen feelers put out by Berlin. However, it represents a monumental display of brass, coming as it does on top of the Nazi threat to 'turn Europe into a maelstrom of destruction' in an attempt to make the allies come to terms."

This is the same demagogic Goebbels whom I heard whipping a crowd of fifty thousand in Berlin up to war fever back at the time of Munich. To give the devil his due.

Legally Dead

Hartford, Conn., July 15—(AP)—The Hartford Courant says today that John A. Commons, 53, former professor of economics at the University of Wisconsin and reportedly missing since 1930, has been found driving a laundry truck in Hartford.

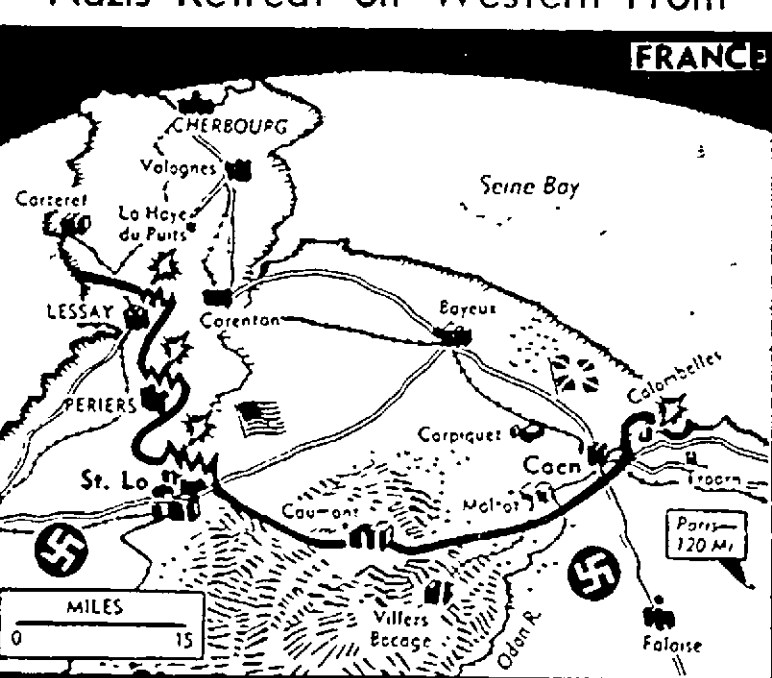

According to the newspaper, Commons was declared legally dead in 1938, a year after his wife had divorced him. Inquiries from Detroit and Milwaukee newspapers recently prompted a search for Commons according to the Courant, and investigators located him at 63 Tremont street.

The story quotes Commons as having told investigators that "I have merely gone out of my wife's life."

According to the newspaper, Commons declared that many persons knew of his whereabouts at all times and that his draft board had been kept informed of his movements.

Commons' newspaper reported registered for the draft at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was quoted as declaring he had always used his own name and had never remained.

Vice Presidential Possibilities Pop Up as Dems. Gather

Spring Up Like Lightning Rods Over Chicago's Downtown

Chicago, July 15—Vice presidential candidacies popped up like lightning rods over Chicago's loop today as anxious Democrats awaited word from National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan on the White House attitude toward their tickets' second place entry.

Hannegan reportedly had in his possession a letter from President Roosevelt to the party convention, which will begin the business next week of nominating, him for a fourth term, expressing preference for the renomination of Vice President Henry Agard Wallace, but leaving the final decision to the delegates.

This message was reported to have been prepared after Wallace himself had written and the president had rejected a suggested draft that was much more definite in its endorsement of the vice-

General Is Among Plane Crash Dead

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 15—(AP)—Maj Gen Paul W. Newgard, commander of the 10th Armored Division, two colonels, and at least two other persons were killed near here last night when an army plane crashed during a heavy storm.

Capt Lester M. Nichols, public relations officer for the 10th Armored Division at Camp Gordon, Ga. announced the fatalities. He said Gen Newgard, Col. Rann Lawrence, commanding a combat unit, and the others had been en route from Fort Knox, Ky., to Augusta, Ga., where a troop review was planned at Camp Gordon today to celebrate the second anniversary of Gen. Newgard's command.

Col. Howard Clark, Fort Oglethorpe commander, said the crash occurred at the height of a wind and electrical storm, and added impact caused the plane to disintegrate. Portions of uniforms and insignia were found he said, denoting the major general, colonels, a staff sergeant and a flight officer.

American Invaders Seize 16 Towns in One Day's Fighting

Record Biggest Day's Gains; Encounter Nazi Artillery

BULLETIN

Outside St. Lo, July 15—(AP)—The battle for St. Lo, raging through its fifth bitter and bloody day, thundered toward a climax today with big German and American guns dueling in the heaviest shelling of the action for this crossroads town.

U. S. infantrymen attacked again at dawn this morning, and edged slowly forward against stubborn Nazi resistance to about 2,000 yards—little more than a mile—of the city's outskirts.

With mobile 75s and 88s ranging the ridges southeast of St. Lo, the Germans poured heavy fire on our advancing troops, and threw in long-range fire from south of the city to give support to the parachute-troop defenders.

BY WES GALLAGHER

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, July 15—(AP)—Doughboy troops, striking forward four miles and straightening a loop in the center, hammered at the Germans' triple-bastion road line in western Normandy today, fighting a mile from Lessay and two miles from Periers and St. Lo.

Three towns fell in the four-mile southward drive from the marshes of Plessis toward Periers, closing in the American line menacing that middle stronghold, in the largest single-day advance since Cherbourg's capture. Sixteen towns and villages on the American front have been seized in the last 24 hours.

Nazis Fight Desperately

The Germans fought desperately to hold their line on the lateral road running from Lessay 21 miles southeastward through Periers to St. Lo. A front dispatch said the enemy poured the toughest artillery fire yet encountered against one U. S. column nearing the Pont-Herbert road north of St. Lo after a 600-yard advance. Infantrymen fought yard by yard for the big road hub of St. Lo, and were closing in from positions at La Barre de Semilly, two miles to the east.

British troops have captured more than 7,000 Germans and killed or wounded four times as many—28,000 to 30,000—since D-day, a British staff officer at the front declared, as a full persisted on the British-Canadian sector to the east.

The whole allied bag of prisoners was above 51,000, for an American announcement June 11 said 46,819 enemy troops had been taken by U. S. forces.

This was the position of the American front this morning:

Position This Morning

Lessay—One mile north of the town after the capture of the hamlet of Boissieux, converging on the town from the east where they were two miles away at Pissot, while on the west they were about a mile and a half away after advancing from the St. Germain-Sur-Ay.

Periers—A late telephone call from the 21st Army group this morning said the Americans had driven to within two miles of the town from the north. The exact position was not given. Previous information a few hours before, however, recorded the capture of Les Granges and Gonfreville, four miles north of the town.

St. Lo—Late information this morning said the Americans had

'Ideal' Movie Marriage Terminates in Divorce

Los Angeles, July 15—(AP)—An eight-year marriage sometimes referred to in Hollywood as "ideal" or "perfect" was ended yesterday when actress Joan Blondell divorced singer Dick Powell on cruelty grounds.

"He told me he didn't care if I did get a divorce," she testified, "and that as far as he was concerned I could get the hell out of the house."

"He kept his office in our home. The phones kept ringing and we had no privacy. When I objected he said 'If you don't like it you can get out.'"

A settlement previously agreed upon gives her half of their $360,000 in community property. Powell keeping $125,000 worth of his separate estate. Miss Blondell gets custody of their two children, Ellen, 5, and Norman, 8, son of cameraman George Barnes, divorced by the actress in 1935. Powell adopted the boy.

Speedy London Moving Biggest Job of War

London, July 15—(AP)—The official program of removing civilians from London because of the Germans' robot bomb attacks constitutes the "biggest and most speedy evacuation of any of the war," Minister of Health Henry U. Willink said today.

He disclosed that 207,168 persons registered for evacuation and 152,652 were taken away from the British capital under the program in the 13 days ending yesterday.

Flying bombs caused some damage and casualties last night in the southern counties, but quiet prevailed in London for the fifth successive night.

The minister of health said in a press conference that 11 residential nurseries and two schools for handicapped children have been moved from flying bomb target areas.

Courts Martial of Kimmel, Short May Start During Fall

Washington, July 15—(AP)—The possibility that courts martial may be organized before Dec. 7 for the trials of Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short was suggested today in informed military quarters.

The appointment yesterday of special boards to inquire into the circumstances of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor was followed by reports that courts martial might be convened to begin the formal trials by taking the pleas of the two officers, then recessing until after the war.

The special boards of inquiry were ordered by a congressional joint resolution which extended the statute of limitation, as it affected anyone charged with dereliction of duty at Pearl Harbor, until next Dec. 7, third anniversary of the Japanese attack.

Navy Secretary Forrestal named a Navy panel to convene here Monday to begin its studies. Its president is Admiral Olin G. Murfin (ret.).

Could Lead to Courts

War Secretary Stimson named a board of inquiry headed by Lt. Gen. George Guinnett, commanding general of the Eastern Defense Command. This board was instructed to hold sessions "at such times and places as are required."

The work of these boards is not in itself the beginning of court martial proceedings against those in command at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck. However, their recommendation could lead to a formal start of the trials to eliminate the need for additional extension of the statute of limitations.

The War department and the Navy have insisted from the start that actual conduct of the trials before the cessation of hostilities would interfere with the conduct of the war, chiefly because many prospective witnesses are scattered throughout the world.

Same Fate Pledged Every Allied Flier Captured in Empire

Atrocities Revealed in "Special" Broadcast to South Pacific

New York, July 15—(AP)—A Japanese broadcast directed to American forces in the Southwest Pacific and recorded by the Federal Communications Commission today said several American airmen captured in the first super-fortress raid on northern Kyushu last month had been executed.

The broadcast warned that "any allied airman who falls or bails out over Japan will be executed."

"This is the order of the day," it added.

The American airmen met with "the same fate which was meted out to leaders of Tokyo some two years ago," continued the broadcast.

FCC monitors said the announcement was contained in a Japanese spokesman's "special talk" from the Singapore transmitter. Reception was poor and only a few excerpts in English were intelligible, the monitors said.

The spokesman, who was not

East Grove Farmer Dies in Accident

Walter Suckrau, 56, who for a number of years has been employed on the Hanson Brothers farms in East Grove township, was crushed to death beneath an overturned tractor yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. The accident occurred just north of the bridge across Green river on state route 26. The body was removed to the Suckraus' funeral home in Dixon where an inquest was conducted today.

Mrs. Harry Borgan and son and Mrs. John Downey of Amboy township, were driving toward Dixon and discovered the overturned tractor lying in a ditch alongside the highway as they passed. Turning around, they investigated and found Suckrau's body pinned beneath the tractor. Mrs. Mabel Heinz, who had gone to the Green river bottom yesterday afternoon to pick berries, arrived on the scene about the same time and the three women notified neighbors residing in the vicinity and state police were summoned.

Appeared in Difficulty

At the inquest today, Mrs. Heinz testified that she observed Suckrau driving along the highway and stated that he waved to her and appeared to be having difficulty in keeping the tractor on the highway. Suckrau was a veteran of World War I and a member of Dixon post No. 12, American Legion. An effort was being made to locate a brother who was reported to reside in Chicago and the accident victim was said to have no relatives residing in this locality.

An American Legion funeral service will be conducted at the Staples funeral home at 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon and burial will probably be in Oakwood cemetery.

American Drive to Within 3 Miles of Seaport of Leghorn

Rome, July 15—(AP)—American troops have driven to within three and a half miles of the seaport of Livorno (Leghorn) in the wake of suddenly melting German resistance, and have captured the town of Chianini, 13 miles inland from the west coast, it was announced today.

The most significant gains in the past two weeks of heavy fighting, putting the Fifth Army within artillery range of Livorno and some miles from the Arno river, were made yesterday, with the battered Germans falling back at most points.

The French, who celebrated Bastille Day, by seizing Poggibonsi in a combined flanking move and direct assault, pursued the enemy northward.

Advance During Day

An Allied spokesman said the leading elements of the American forces on the west coast were within six miles of the edge of Livorno late yesterday. Frontline reports declared by last night, however, that the doughboys had punched to within three and a half miles of the outskirts at one point and to within five and three-fourths miles at another.

In a broad forward sweep, one American column passed Ghizzano, 23 miles due east of Livorno, and occupied all the important heights covering the approach to the Arno river, 10 miles away.

Another American force captured Villamagna, 15 miles west of Poggibonsi, while still other U. S. units swept through Chianini and Belvedere, enemy strongholds guarding the Via valley avenue toward the Arno valley.

Belvedere is five and a half miles northeast of Chianini.

Tropical Storm is Reported in Atlantic

Miami, Fla., July 15—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today reported a tropical storm 450 miles in the Atlantic, due east of Melbourne, Fla., and advised naval forces to take precautions in the path of the blow.

The storm warning service said the disturbance, not of hurricane intensity, was moving northward parallel to the U. S. coast line, at 12 to 14 miles an hour, attended by 40 to 45 mile winds.

"Its movement will continue northward with further increase in intensity indicated during this afternoon and tonight," the bureau said. "It will probably curve slowly to the north-northeast later."

Fortress Landing is Termed Incredible

A U. S. Bomber Base in England, July 15—(AP)—As sparks flew from three engines running dry of oil, two cool-headed airmen landed a crippled Flying Fortress recently on a sandy lane between two English coast minefields, with just inches separating them from explosives which would have blown them to bits.

The airmen were Capt. Tracy J. Petersen, Norris, Mont., a Fortress group leader, and Capt. Hal Lamb, Chattanooga, Tenn., the ship's pilot.

They brought the flak-hit bomber all the way back from Leipzig. With only 200 feet of altitude left over the English coast, they headed for the beach despite two groups of posts sticking up out of mined areas. They had to lift one wing over one stretch of posts, then quickly elevate the right wing to get the ship down.

The plane stall on the beach with all those mines around—it is too dangerous to move it, officials said.

Task Force Raid of Guam Foretells 2nd Marianas Landing

Nips Attempted Landing on Northwestern New Guinea Smashed

By VERNON HAUGLAND (Associated Press War Editor)

Radio Tokyo, anticipating a possible second U. S. landing operation in the Marianas, reported today an eleventh-day raid upon Guam by 85 American planes and an attack by two Liberators upon Iwo Jima island in the Kazan group.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announced yesterday that a fast American carrier task force raided Guam, 125 miles south of American-occupied Saipan, and nearby Rota island with bombs and rockets Thursday. It was the tenth straight day of such attacks.

The Tokyo broadcast added that a "powerful American unit, with carriers, battleships, cruisers and destroyers, is continuing activities near Guam. The war situation does not allow a moment of optimism."

The Kazan or Volcano Islands, 750 miles northwest of Saipan, hitherto have been out of reach of American land-based planes. A strike by Liberators would indicate that Saipan's newly-won airfields were in shape to handle heavy bombers.

Long Photographic Flight

In China it was disclosed that Capt Winfree Sordelle, an American P-38 pilot, flew an unaided photographic reconnaissance mission over the Japanese main islands last October—a 2,200-mile round trip across the East China sea.

Two by-passed and starvation-threatened Japanese forces, meanwhile, attempted to join Nipponese garrisons in northwestern New Guinea, only to be slain, the other, by desperate attack.

The fierce assault was by forward elements of the 18th Imperial army, seeking to blast a path westward for 45,000 survivors through the American coastal block at Aitape, British New Guinea.

There were some penetrations, but in general the Americans held their lines.

"The initial effort of the enemy's advance elements, failing of surprise, has dwindled," Gen.

Two St. Charles Youths Still at Large Today

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—Only two of the youths who escaped from the Illinois state training school for boys near St. Charles in consecutive mass breaks Wednesday and Thursday were still at large today.

Still being sought were John Novicki, 17, of Chicago, one of five who escaped Wednesday night and William Lamont, 15, also of Chicago, who fled with 11 other inmates Wednesday night.

Chicago police captured three escapees yesterday, Robert Chamberlain, 18, John Nosiek, 16, and Anthony Perez, 15, all of Chicago, while a fourth, Victor Obos, 16, of Chicago, surrendered himself voluntarily. They had escaped in the Thursday break.

At Clinton, Ia., two of those who escaped Wednesday, George Lakin, 16, Chicago, and Eugene Martin, 16, Peoria, were captured by police.

The other youths involved in the Wednesday mass escape were captured that night and Thursday.

The afternoon party was attended by about 150 guests.

PROGRAMS PLANNED IN DIXON PARKS

A Badminton tournament will be held Monday afternoon at John Dixon park with winners from each of the four city parks competing for the final prize. Following the tournament, a softball game will be held.

There will be tennis instruction by Jane Quick at the high school courts on Tuesday and on Wednesday afternoon a baseball game between Kiwanis park and Dement park will be held at Dement park. A bus will take all children over six years of age to Lowell park for an all-day outing on Thursday. Bus stops for the children will be made at Truman school, Kiwanis park and John Dixon park at 9:30 a. m.

Mrs. Charles F. Johnston, Jr., who conducts a story hour at John Dixon park each morning at 10:30 a. m., has returned from her vacation and has resumed the regular hours.

On Friday each park will organize teams to compete in a volleyball tournament to be held during the following week. The north side won the softball games from the south side this week at the high school practice field, the score being 14 to 12. Phelps, McLean and Smith scored home runs for the north side.

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER APPEALS FOR VOLUNTEERS FOR NURSE'S AIDE WORK

On Tuesday, August 1, the second class for Nurse's Aides will start with Mrs. Harry Miller, R. N., as the instructor. Mrs. Miller is a Katherine Shaw Beltha graduate nurse and is well equipped for the job as teacher of this class.

Nurse's Aide training is not easy, but it isn't easy for a graduate nurse to give up a pleasant stimulating position, to give up her home to go out to the far flung battlefronts, often to live in jungle tents, to nurse under the most adverse circumstances. If already 25,000 nurses have been willing to do this, certainly 25,000 more American women should be willing to devote 80 hours to nurses' aid training and volunteer at least 150 hours of service a year.

So far, luckily, there has not been an opportunity to actually observe what value nurses' aides would be, were the American continent subject to some of the wartime disasters which have enveloped other nations. However, during the Boston night club fire they had a chance to prove what they could do in a dreadful disaster. More recently, the circus fire in Hartford, Conn., proved just what nurses' aides could do when they were called to assist in caring for the victims of an unexpected disaster.

In return for the free 80 hour course the candidate merely agrees to give an average of three hours a week for one year to our local hospital. The time which the aide gives is arranged to suit her own convenience and, of course, is not limited to 150 hours a year. Some nurses' aides are giving many hours more.

This second class for nurses' aides is to be limited to 20. Classes will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday of each week with hours from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Women of Dixon are urged to register for this course at the American Red Cross room in the Hotel Nachusa.

Nation's Women Serve Country

Washington July 15—(AP)—More than two score women members of the nation's armed forces—Nurses, WACS, WAVES, Marines—have died in line of duty since the start of the war and even more are prisoners.

Six Army nurses died in the bombing of Army field hospitals on the beachhead at Anzio, Italy. Twenty-three others died in accidents while in performance of duty, Army records show.

The Women's Army Corps lists on WAC killed in line of duty, a jeep accident in North Africa.

The Marines have lost seven members in accidents while the women were on duty.

Four Navy nurses have died in plane crashes while on assignments.

About 60 Army nurses and 16 Navy nurses are prisoners, all of them captured when the Philippines fell to the Japanese.

BEND CLUB

The Bend Stitch and Chatter club met at the home of Mrs. James Leach and her daughter, Mrs. Francis Byggs for their July meeting. A short meeting was held with 11 members answering roll call after which the afternoon was spent in games and sewing.

The hostess served delicious refreshments and Mrs. Leon Brooks invited the club members to meet at her home in August.

The club entertained their families and a few guests at a picnic dinner recently at Lowell park with 50 in attendance.

Making jelly? You'll enjoy using an enameled ware saucepan because it cooks the jelly quickly and prevents loss of flavor and color. Easy-to-clean candelers, ladies and pans also are made in enameled ware and are handy canning helps.

Porcelain enameled ware saves fuel because it conducts the heat from flame to food evenly. It also conserves heat efficiently because food is kept at the boiling point with a smaller flame on the heating unit.

For Women's War Activities Nylon Stockings Ideal Award

By RUTH MILETT

"Thousands of women stood for hours in a blazing sun here as the government sold 4800 pairs of nylon hose, but only a small part of the throng succeeded in buying any of the precious leg-wear."

"The would-be purchasers formed a line three blocks long and four abreast when U. S. Marshal Edney Ridge placed the stockings on sale at 10 a. m. Some of the women had been in line since before 7 a. m."

So said a recent news item from Greensboro, N. C. It looks as though Uncle Sam missed a bet when he handed over those nylons to any woman with the endurance to stand in line for them and cash necessary for their purchase.

Why didn't the wise old gentleman—who, if he doesn't, should know women by now—take over their precious stockings and award them like medals to women who are turning in top performances in the war effort?

For instance, why couldn't a pair have been given to the women workers in war plants with the best production and attendance records? Why couldn't some of them be shipped to the nurses overseas who have worked under fire—but who are still feminine creatures who like to look pretty when, and if, they get leaves?

Medal of Merit

Why couldn't a few pairs have gone to the women who have given blood numerous times? And to the women who have put in the most hours at the job of nurses' aide?

What could be more suitable in the form of an award for feminine achievement than a shimmering pair of nylon stockings? Most any woman would rather have them than a piece of bronze.

To remodel curtains that have shrank, add a wide, contrasting ruffled flounce to the sides and bottom edges, using a sewing machine's ruffler attachment. Discolored curtains can also be put back into circulation by a quick-tinting job to match the color scheme of your room.

Soak dirty curtains in lukewarm water for about 15 minutes before washing, to loosen dirt stains. Bluing flakes in your soap suds give gleaming white curtains without any streaks. Fold each curtain in a Turkish towel and force out excess moisture by twisting the towel from the ends.

Annual Picnic of DUV to Be July 27

Anna Kellogg Baker Tent, No. 81, Daughters of the Union Veterans, held their regular meeting Thursday in G. A. R. hall with the meeting being called to order by the president.

General orders from national headquarters were read and the announcement made that the 54th national convention of the D. U. V. will be held at Des Moines, Ia., the week of September 10. Department headquarters will be established at the Kirkwood hotel.

Mrs. Lucy Eastman, chairman of the council, read the report of the auditing committee and Mrs. Frances Lynch received an appointment. The organization has donated $5 to the National Grand Army fund, and also has made a gift of money to the Salvation Army.

The Tent will hold its annual picnic dinner at the home of Mrs. Maude Hobbs on Thursday, July 27. Members and their families and friends are invited to attend the dinner to be served at 6 o'clock with picnic rules prevailing.

At the social hour, Mrs. Ruth Leydig Merriack was presented with a gift. Ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Lyle Stauffer and her committee.

The next meeting will be held on the Thursday, August 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in G. A. R. hall.

Porcelain enameled ware is readily cleaned with soapy suds. It is best never to dash cold water on it while the pot or pan is hot.

Home makers have enjoyed using porcelain enameled ware for over 100 years.

NIGHT CALL. Waterbury, Conn.—The telephone rang to get Dr. Charles A. Beere, veterinarian, out of bed. A man's voice inquired:

"I'm going to build a dog house; how big shall I make it?" "Depends on the size of your dog. How big is he?" asked the vet.

"I haven't got the dog yet," was the reply.

—In 1943 657,414 tons of fruit and 1,373,911,044 gallons of fruit juices were used in making wine and brandy.

A Thought for Today

For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.—1 Timothy 6:7.

Ah, make the most of what we yet may spend.
Before we too into the Dust descend.—Fitzgerald

England Can Still Take It

Once again we have reason to offer England our profound sympathy, and admiration for her rugged courage. Somehow the British people never look better than when the situation is serious.
And certainly Mr. Churchill never appears to such good advantage as when in time of stress he expresses in measured eloquence the angry defiance and determination of the people he has been chosen to lead.

Today's flying bomb attacks on England are different, both in purpose and effect, from the blitz of 1940-41. And the English people's reaction is different; they are no less courageous, but their anger seems to be fiercer, perhaps even contemptuous, in spite of the frightful toll of these robot attacks.

For that reason their impatience for a full discussion of the raids and counter-measures was understandable. This time there are no siren warnings, no dog fights, less chance for effective ground fire.
The new bombs fly in almost without warning day and night, rain or shine, completely unpredictable.
Londoners naturally wanted to know what was being done.

Mr. Churchill's speech must have been comforting. The people learned how long Hitler's secret weapon has been an open secret to the Allies. They learned how often Nazi plans had been frustrated or weakened by heavy bombings, first on the robot's testing grounds, later on launching areas.

They discovered that the flying bomb is an instrument for desperate, wanton, aimless civilian slaughter largely because Allied air power delayed its use beyond the day of invasion. Civilian deaths in London have been greater than British losses in Normandy during the same period.
Once again the war is a grim reality to London.

But now British and Allied arms are across the Channel, and the attacks on London are the last blows of a wounded, dying, but still treacherous enemy.

Mr. Churchill offered no hope for immediate relief from these attacks. He did not minimize their seriousness. Yet Britons know that their military science has devised a successful defense against every new enemy development thus far. They know that the robot, for all its destructiveness, cannot duck or dodge or shoot back. They have the prime minister's assurance that "every-

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—In another of her sidelong pleas for the Communists, Mrs. Roosevelt recently wrote:
"We live in a country in which our proud boast for many years has been that we could speak our own minds on any subject and be protected in our right to hold beliefs or to express ourselves as we pleased."

As against that, I should like to say that the groups for whom, later in the essay, Mrs. Roosevelt bespoke this cherished American right, are violent enemies of freedom of dissent and to cite again some pertinent testimony from the writings of the late Frank Knox. Knox wrote that the government, of which Mrs. Roosevelt, by personal pushfulness, soon made herself an active and influential part, had established, at public expense, an enormous propaganda "that functions along lines quite similar to the organizations of Stalin, Hitler, and Mussolini," to tell the American people that her husband was a great president and that the new deal was a great, idealistic program. He wrote further that "in addition to being a propaganda organization, it is an espionage system in full bloom."

And, for reply, long in advance, to Mrs. Roosevelt's current taunting reminder of the freedom which Americans enjoyed before her own accession to influence as the wife of one whom she has had the confident effort to call the "ruler" of the American people.
Knox set forth the elements of political intimidation by which Mrs. Roosevelt's party has, to a great degree suppressed our old right to "speak our minds on any subject."

"Let a person of prominence speak up in criticism of the new deal," Knox wrote, "and one of three things, or all three, is likely to happen to him. In due time he will find himself before a legislative committee in Washington.
He will be publicly castigated by an obedient office holder in Washington and (or), he will be put on the calling list of the internal revenue department."

I would say, further, that many substantial Americans of unquestionable loyalty nowadays are afraid to speak their minds on controversial subjects lest they be persecuted by the Labor Relations Board, or the War Labor Board, denied necessary priorities or renegotiated or harassed by internal revenue. I would say further that Mrs. Roosevelt herself very well knows that members of labor unions, which her new deal government compelled them to join,
are afraid to criticize the goons, Communists, and common, underworld criminals in the union movement, lest they be fired and blacklisted or even beaten to death, all of which reprisals have frequently occurred.

People nowadays commonly say "nothing in human power" is being done.

And when Mr. Churchill says
"we have never failed yet," the British people know that he is not speaking lightly. They proved once that England can take it, and they know that England can take it again.

"Let's not go into details on the phone," because that espionage system of which Knox wrote has put them in fear of punishment by her political associates in the new deal government or by her followers in the sub-government of the unions.

"A few people in Washington," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote, further,
"who hold minor positions, have been troubled by investigation into their private lives or into their political views and activities."

I suppose Mrs. R. here refers to the Dies' committee's recent disclosure that she, among others, in the White House, and many individuals in the departments of justice and agriculture and regional directors of the Farm Security Administration had received telephone calls from the New York office of the Political Action Committee which is a Communist organization. Even President Roosevelt and Attorney General E.A. Tamm have said that Communism is subversive and the Dies committee was organized to expose subversive activities.

Pursuant to this mandate the committee investigated the PAC and it just happened that Mrs.
Roosevelt and the rest were identified in the long distance telephone records as recipients of calls from the New York headquarters at a time when the new deal was trying to deceive the people by pretending that the PAC was just an independent group of progressive Americans entirely unconnected with the Roosevelt party.
But, if minor persons in Washington were "troubled," as she says, for their association with groups to which she herself has been partial, the fact remains that Mrs. R. never said a word in rebuke of the spies and terrorists of her own party and government who hounded and persecuted and went after other Americans according to the method that Frank Knox described.

The federal government through instructing women in the proper technique of washing windows.

"No kidding!"
It was below his dignity to answer such an insult. We got out and opened the door. Not a sound, not a light, not a movement indicated that we were within reach of any human settlement.

"Follow me," he said.
In Indian file, as the path was too narrow to go side by side, we followed his flashlight through a grove of palms and suddenly stood in front of a white house which looked just like all the cubical townhalls of the villages we had passed through.

Without our ringing a bell or making any noise, the entrance door opened.

"Come in. Please come in quickly," said a woman's voice.

I HADN'T visualized any sort of arrival; but this one indeed, in its ghostly flavor, took our breath away.

Yet the ban broke immediately inside the house and we were welcome with smiles, handshakes and cheers by Dr. Merrill and Miss Fryberg, the chief nurse.

We were in a large empty room, the new office and headquarters of the three-day-old Army hospital.

"We need help desperately," Dr.
Merrill stated briefly, "and we are impressed by the quick arrangement of your trip."

"We converted three of these barren rooms into wards. Five barracks are under construction," added Mrs. Fryberg in exactly the same tone and manner as the doctor.

She wore a light gray uniform, the collar and cap of which had lost the immaculateness that is a nurse's token. Dark circles of exhaustion under her eyes deceived the discipline of her voice. Her hands looked surprisingly old, her face 10 years younger. I liked and trusted her immediately though I am slow in opening my heart to a complete stranger, but her face bore that indescribable sign of great suffering which draws me to a woman without the need of words.

Dr. Merrill left the room quickly and Mrs. Fryberg led us to what she called the kitchen. "Help yourselves," she said.

They'll Do It Every Time

NEVER LET A BABY-
FACED BLONDE IN-
TO A STAG POKER
GAME
—TYLER BLISS
CORAL GABLES, FLORIDA

CHICAGO has settled down to the rhythm of war time living with a nonchalance that is characteristic of a big city in time of emergency. A year ago people were gaping with the novelty of it all and talking about the changes brought about by the conflict—now talk has resolved itself to the everyday little things and they put up with the inconveniences without comment.

GROUPS of marching sailors and soldiers pass through the busy "loop"—a policeman stops traffic—the people waiting to cross the street look on without the same excitement they would show if a good sized truck blocked their way for a little while. They are not unpatriotic—they are just accustomed to it.

WHERE a few months ago it seemed that everybody was trying to "do two people's work and consequently there were many tired faces, now they have settled themselves into a livable routine. Health is first, unnecessary luxuries in housekeeping and general service are dispensed with —people are living at a pace they can continue for a long time.

If a husband and wife are both working they divided the household tasks and are living simply and without too much recreation until the war is over. Restaurants do not give the extras of service. One manager was talking about his problem of finding help to wash his glassware and had about decided to use self-service paper containers—he had heard of another place where the idea had worked very well.

THERE was the unusual sight of a line standing outside the employment office waiting to get in. Whether these people were waiting for releases from one job to another or whether they were looking for new jobs could not be determined. It was evident however that labor was having its difficulties and was seeking the employment office for something.

VICTORY gardens have taken on an air of experienced sensibility. They look much more like grandpa's old-fashioned plot this year.
The gardeners found out from experience that some of the "new-fangled" things were hot-hous—luxuries or took special care so they have planted the more easily raised vegetables such as beans and greens and consequently have some sturdy looking rows of greenery in their backyard plots. The gardens still have the same wandering outlines and "the same packing box
"fences" that they had before.
No crazy quilt could have more variety than some of the vacant lots!

A MOST interesting thing is happening at the Union Stockyards. Your editor sat in one of the commission offices the other day and listened to the conversation concerning the future of the livestock business for the rest of the year. Usually after listening to these comments for a few minutes one has a fairly good idea about the market situation as it is seen from Chicago—that wasn't true this time.

THE particular group which were doing the discussing were buyers and sellers and farmers and office bookkeepers.
There were actually "s many opinions about whether the price would be up or down as there were people in the office. Some thought the western run this fall would be the biggest ever—others said the run would be exceptionally light. Another said there was plenty of grass in the northwest and there would be a run of grass-fattened cattle. Another thought the price was about to break and the run would be early while someone else said if the price broke the run would be late—

SO the outlook for the cattle market is apparently anybody's guess when men who have made a life study of the situation live as many ideas as they did.
The hog situation seems to be clearer with the recent government reports showing a decided decrease in the number of pigs to farrow this fall. The glutted market on hogs is not going to last for too many months.

POLITICALLY there is some tension in the air, though probably not as much as in smaller communities—at least not on the surface. However Marshall Field's have used the two national conventions as a theme for their window decorations. In each window is a large outline of one of the states of the Union and a welcome to that state. The accompanying window displays in many cases have some connection with that section of the country.

LAUGHTER hasn't returned to the big city. While not so many are talking about that boy over there (the novelty has worn off) there are just as many thinking of him. It's not easy to laugh when you are thinking such thoughts.

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

by JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, July 15—(AP)—It was the last bus home, the 1 a. m. bus.

The tall young man in the brown suit stared out the window. He always did that. I had seen him other times, day and night, and he always did what he was doing now.

I had often wondered about him.
He was tall, husky and he was a civilian. I wondered why. I guess everyone nowadays wonders about that when he sees a strong young man not in uniform.

I wondered about the expression on his face, too. I never could make up my mind about that look on his face. It was an innocent expression. It was the expression of a man forever just emerging from a deep sleep.

The bus stopped and a wife kissed her soldier-husband quickly.
"See you again," he said, and squeezed her hand, which bore a shiny wedding ring. She left the bus.

There was a girl sitting in front of the soldier reading a magazine.

Suddenly the tall young man got up and went over and sat down beside the girl. He had a paper bag in his hand. He rooted in the bag and brought out a picture in a frame.

He turned shyly to the girl and showed her the picture. She looked at the picture and then at him.
She looked at him steadily, in a searching way.

But the young man turned and handed the picture to the soldier behind him. It was a picture of the tall young man himself in soldier uniform.

"Yes," the soldier said, holding the picture and waiting for the young man to say something.
"That's me in the picture," the tall young man said with a smile that was like a child's proud smile. "That's me when I was a bombardier."

"Yes," the soldier said. "Yes,"
He looked at the young man.

The smile faded from the young man's face as if night was settling in upon him. He put the picture back into the paper bag and got up and went over to his own seat and stared out into the darkness again.

JOHN WESLEY HOYLE

John Wesley Hoyle, son of John Hoyle and Elnora Deeter Hoyle, was born in Somerset Co., Penn., on May 6, 1853. At about the age of six months, his parents came to Lee Co., Illinois. Mr. Hoyle's early years were spent near El-dena, Lee Co., and his entire lifetime was spent in Lee Co. He was married to Belle Fritz, Feb.
1, 1887, who at the time lived in Eldena. They went to live on the homestead farm of Mr. Hoyle's father. Six of their seven children were born on this homestead farm.
After twenty-eight years of successful farming, the family moved to Dixon, having lived almost thirty years in their present home at 203 Grant avenue, where he passed away Friday evening, July 7th.

Besides his wife Belle, he leaves the following children: Ray V.
Hoyle, of Mt. Pleasant, Mich.; Mrs.
Earl Pelton, Dixon, Ill.; Frank W.
Hoyle, Plum Hollow, Dixon, Ill.;
Russell J. Hoyle, Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Harold Martin, Beloit, Wis.; Two daughters preceded him in death, Florence as an infant and Hazel, wife of S. C. Forney. One brother, Peter Hoyle, of Eldena, and one sister, Mrs. Chas. Shoo-maker of Beardon, Arkansas survive also.

In February 1937 these loving and always kind parents celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with their children and grandchildren around them. February this year made fifty-seven years of wonderful companionship.

Sixteen grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren also felt the loss of his never failing interest in everything they undertook.

God was good to us all to have given us such a loving father for such a long time. His wisdom and love made us all better for it.

MISSING SACKS
A solution to the mystery of missing mail sacks sent to the armed forces overseas is given by John D. Hardy of Washington, the railway mail service.

He knows they have been used for tents and sandbagging, but adds:

"I figure that in North Africa and the South Pacific some of the natives have turned them into dresses."

Enlisting as a Red Cross Nurse after her American husband had been killed in action, German-born Charlotte Moore underwent hospital training. Her particular charge is called "The Foreign Legion" and includes Russian, Italian, Brazilian, Japanese, Belgian, Yon-nise and English Elizabeths. They receive Army commissions upon graduation, and by order orders to a secret destination.

Americans have just landed in North Africa, and all the nurses are ordered to learn fluently that they are being sent to Italy.

Upon arrival, however, they are told they are to remain overland only and then will proceed to their stations in the interior.

ARRIVAL AND WELCOME
VI
IT was 6 o'clock in the morning when we gathered in front of the hospital to step into that miraculously clean station wagon for the day-long drive through Algeria. Our destination this time was revealed to us, but as it had such a S64 name it is easy for me to follow instructions and not mention it.

The drive through the country was beautiful. The road along the seacoast reminds you vividly of the Corniche between Marseille and Nice just across the Mediterranean. Deep red cliffs look down on the sapphire blue of the sea while the green of the forest contrasts with the azure of the sky.
After leaving the coast we went up through the hills and came to a road which was a masterpiece of engineering, as it wound dizzily along the side of a mountain.
Here you could feel the barren emptiness of the country beyond and behind, you could see the poverty and primitiveness of the population, you could imagine their innocent simplicity, but you could not visualize a war at the end of it all!

It was midday when we came to Constantine, a romantic old town, standing out gorgeously on a rocky pinnacle. We stopped in front of a suspension bridge and suddenly looked into the maw of the earth, into the depths of the Georges de Rhummel. It is a marvelous setting; chasm, perpendicular cliffs, natural rock bridges and tunnels, houses clinging precariously to the rock walls and far beneath the silver streak of the river.

We bought some dates at the nearby open air market, where the peasants offered their goods.
A very beautiful Jewish girl—she was unveiled, a fact which revealed both her religion and her beauty—while counting change, suddenly flared up and asked in French, "You are not Boches, are you?"

Her face became distorted with fear and she hesitated to pass us the dates.

"Don't you see that we all come from the Bronx?" Yvonne joked in her broadest Belgian French.

That didn't make sense to the girl. devoid of understanding and full of distrust she stared into our smiling faces to read the truth.
Elizabeth saved the situation and our dates. With the tip of her shoe she etched the sign of the swastika in the sandy ground and spat on it! That was a language the Jewish girl understood, and with a relieved smile she gave us a double amount of dates.

FROM now on our way must be shrouded in secrecy. Taut with expectation, we didn't talk much;
some smoked, some slept, Mali hummed softly. She had a sweet, melodious little voice, not like a radio crooner, and her wordless songs were moodily comforting.

"Isn't it strange," whispered
Elizabeth who sat next to me,
"four days ago we were still in California among the most carefree people, and all of a sudden we find ourselves in this wilderness headed for war. How much money we cost the government! I hope we'll be worth it!"

"Here we are," said our driver, stopping somewhere in imperturbable darkness.
"Here?" You mean this is it?"
"Yes, lady. This is it."

Unique Battle School—Trains Soldiers for Combat Experience

Dixon Lieutenant is Among Instructors at Italian School

If anyone bothers to name "The Professor of the Year", he might well consider every officer and enlisted man who serves on the faculty of a Mediterranean Theater Leadership and Battle Training School, which has trained tens of thousands of the United States soldiers now blasting the nazis in Italy. Among the instructors at this unique school is 1st Lt. Zael A. Spinden, husband of Mrs. Gladys L. Spinden, 115 Crawford avenue.

The school operates on the principle that the sounds of the battlefield are among the most terrifying sensations encountered by a soldier going into battle for the first time. To get him accustomed to those sounds is one of the main goals of Leadership and Battle Training School.

They haven't "tossed the book out of the window" at this school—but they have written a few new chapters.

The Battle Training School's outdoor classrooms cover an area 15 miles long and 8 miles wide. The area is called "ideal" in that it includes virtually every kind of terrain—high mountains, woodlands, flat and rolling fields, streams, brushlands—everything, in fact, except jungles. It was chosen because of its varied terrain, because it was sparsely settled, and because its climate was most analogous to what our troops would be meeting on the Italian front. Conditions range from a foot of snow in winter to temperatures of 120 degrees in summer.

Phases of combat which are taught include advancing under hostile artillery fire, night battle inoculation, advancing under friendly artillery fire, squad infiltration by night, daylight patrols, night reconnaissance patrols, company attack in mountainous terrain, night ambush, company in defense, squad in attack, platoon in attack, assault fire, night formations, cover and concealment, creeping and crawling, observation, terrain appreciation, individual stalking, night compass marching, organization of the German army, German weapons, etc.

Blackburn Received AAF Medical Release

Corp. Lewis J. Blackburn, son of Joseph Blackburn, 515 South Hennepin avenue, has received a medical discharge and has returned to his home it has been announced by Sheppard Field, Texas, air base.

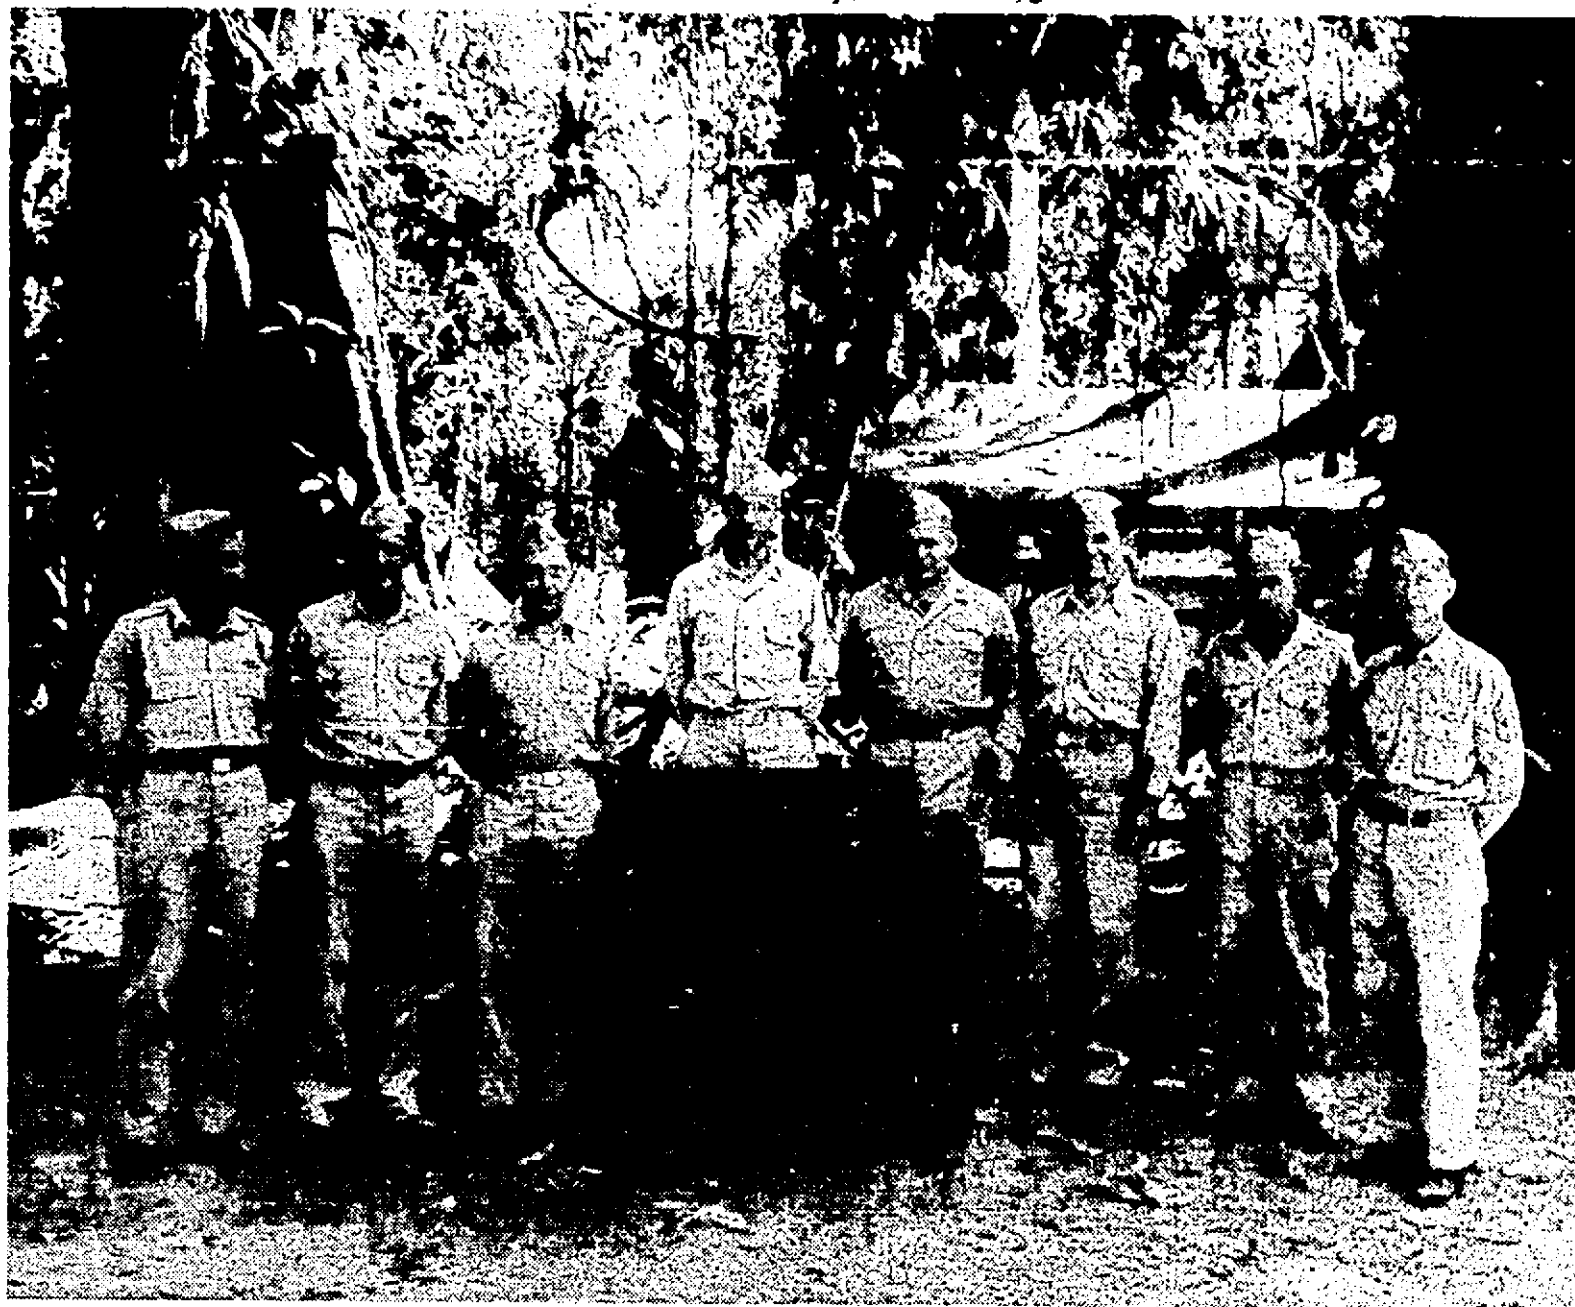

While in the Army Air Forces he served as an administration clerk after taking his basic training at Kelly Field, Texas. At the time of his discharge Corp. As an undergraduate at the university the young man, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sinow, was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. He was graduated from Dixon high school in 1938.

Aleutians Private Expected in Dixon

Pvt. Ralph H. Hansen of the Engineer Corps, returning from 11 months overseas in the Aleutians Theater of Operations, was expected to arrive at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., July 10 prior to reaching his home at 554 West Everett street. He will visit his wife, Mrs. Ralph Hansen while on furlough.

Lt. Col. Habecker Commands Fighter Group in India

Lieut. Col. John C. Habecker, son of Dr. and Mrs. I. N. Habecker, 516 Ottawa avenue, Dixon, has recently received a merited promotion and has become commanding officer of the 528th fighter-bomber squadron of the 311th group, now stationed in India. Lt. Col. Habecker has been stationed in India for several months where he has been quite active in the Army Air Corps service.

During his service in that country he has been awarded the Air Medal for 25 combat missions and the Distinguished Flying Cross for 50 combat missions together with the Oak Leaf cluster. When he recently was awarded the second Oak Leaf cluster, he was presented with the following citation:

"Lieutenant Colonel John C. Habecker, as pilot, has accomplished with distinction more than 25 combat missions over enemy-held territory in northern Burma. In the executions of these flights he has with eagerness and vigor attacked enemy installations and material and troop concentrations, inflicting severe damage on these as well as bridges, airfields and other communication facilities. The initiative and ability displayed in these operations reflect much credit upon Lieut. Col. Habecker and the Army Air Forces."

Col. Habecker was assigned to active combat duty several months ago after having been stationed at Quito, Ecuador, for a long period. Since his arrival on foreign soil his advancements have been rapid and he has received numerous decorations for his service. In a recent letter to his parents, Col. Habecker forwarded several pieces of Japanese invasion currency which were among souvenirs picked up on battlefields of Burma.

Sgt. W. Needham Awarded Air Medal at English Base

For "meritorious achievement" in aerial combat, Sgt. Wayne W. Needham, 130 Patrick Court, has been awarded the Air Medal.

Sgt. Needham has been on active combat duty as a Flying Fortress ball turret gunner since assignment to his present heavy bomber squadron, in the ETO, last May.

Son of Mrs. Marcella Needham, the 22-year-old gunner is a 1942 graduate of Dixon high school. His brother, Warren N. Needham, is in training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

Before entering the armed forces, Sgt. Needham was employed by the Illinois State Highway department. He enlisted in the Army September 11, 1942.

Sgt. Needham received air mechanic training in Texas and California and won his gunner's wings at Tyndall Field, Florida, aerial gunnery school. Assigned to a bomber crew, he completed combat phase training before coming overseas to join his squadron.

Two Dixonites are Now at Camp Wolters, Tex.

Two Dixon men, Pvt. Kenneth L. Reglin and Pvt. Clarence W. Bruce, are now on duty at Camp Wolters, Texas. Pvt. Reglin, son of Emil O. Reglin, is beginning his basic training as an infantryman, being assigned to a battalion stressing rifle and heavy weapons. Pvt. Bruce is the husband of Mrs. Martha M. Bruce, 504 South Ottawa avenue. He has been assigned to a battalion stressing heavy weapons.

and instruction begins at 10 a. m. Sermon subject, "Steps Upward in Faith". The church school meets after the worship service, with classes for all ages and interests. Mrs. Florence and Mr. Wiltz will drive to Eureka Saturday to bring back the group of Conference delegates attending the youth meeting. Mr. Wiltz will be on vacation during the next two weeks, with a supply filling the pulpit on July 23. The parsonage family will be in Chicago Heights over the week-end.

Church of the Brethren
Foster B. Statler, pastor
The morning worship service will be held at 10 o'clock. The pastor will preach the second of his series of sermons on "Psalms and Psalms", the title of this sermon being "Out of Spiritual Depression", a study of Psalm 42, a psalm of the sons of Korah. The union evening service will be held on the campus at 7:30. The planning group will meet at the parsonage Monday evening, looking forward to the program of the fall and winter.

The Ladies Aid society meets Wednesday afternoon.
The mid-week prayer service will be held Thursday evening at 7:30.

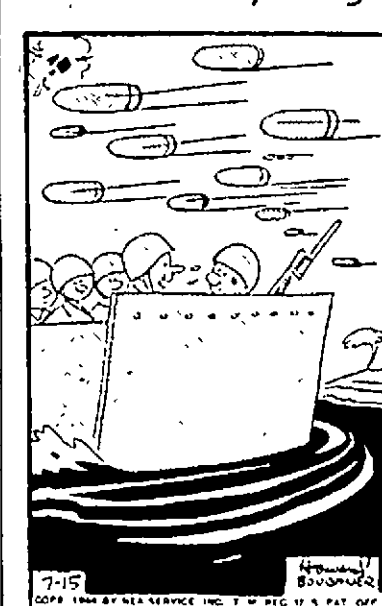

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Pie Ticket

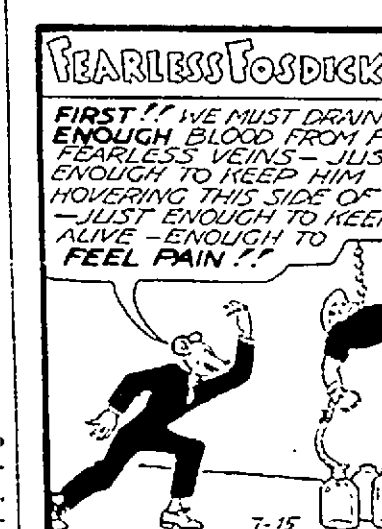

A PIE TICKET is one of many non-existent items used to make the life of a boot more miserable by those who have been in camp for a while and know what it's all about. If a new recruit suddenly develops a craving for pie, he is sent to the platoon leader for a PIE TICKET. The platoon leader will invariably send him to the mess hall and from there he will be sent further on his quest for the PIE TICKET. Another favorite is to have a boot keep a lookout for the Mail Buoy or stand Tide Watch. He may also be sent to get an imaginary Hammock Ladder or the Smoke Preventer. This creates a lot of amusement for everyone but the victim. After going on one of these "wild goose chases," a boot is usually allergic to running errands for anyone except the captain.

In the County Court
To Emma Petersen, Hattie Pierce, John Raasch, Amanda Merrill, Lydia Roe, Anna Raasch, Meta Dehus, Carl Raasch, Bertha Nelson, Edwin Zamzow, Helen Zamzow and the unknown heirs at law of Anna L. Geisenheimer, deceased.
You and each of you will hereby take notice that an instrument purporting to be the last will of Anna L. Geisenheimer, deceased, has been filed in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of the County of Lee, Illinois, together with the petition of Herman M. Rasch and Robert L. Warner representing among other things that the names of all the heirs, legatees and devisees of said deceased, are as follows, to wit:
Emma Petersen, Hattie Pierce, John Raasch, Amanda Merrill, Lydia Roe, Anna Raasch, Meta Dehus, Carl Raasch, Bertha Nelson, Edwin Zamzow, Helen Zamzow and the unknown heirs at law of Anna L. Geisenheimer, deceased and praying that said instrument be admitted to probate as the last will of said deceased, and that the same be ordered recorded.
You will also take notice that the hearing on said petition and the proof of said purported last will has been set by said Court for the 7th day of August, 1944, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the County Court Room in the City of Dixon in said county, when and where you may appear and show cause, if any you have, why said purported last will should not be admitted to probate.
Dated this 20th day of June, 1944.

Senior Choir Social
The Senior choir of the Brethren church held their annual social Tuesday evening on the lawn of the Cover home. About thirty members and their families enjoyed the occasion. Winners were roasted over the fireplace and a happy period of fellowship and fun was enjoyed in spite of the rain, which was heartily welcomed. A gift was presented to the Choir Director, Harold Parks, in observance of his recent graduation from a three-years' course in Sacred Music at Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago.
Happy Day at Grand Detour
About 20 ladies from here, members of the Pissella club and their friends, journeyed on Thursday to the picturesque old town of Grand Detour, where they were the guests of Mrs. Mary Hussey Jenkins. A wonderful picnic dinner was enjoyed and the hours passed quickly in visiting and looking at the lovely surroundings. The weather was ideal and all were agreed that the day will long be remembered in the list of happy and pleasurable occasions.
To Church Camp
Mrs. S. L. Cover leaves on Sunday for a week's teaching at Camp Mack, Milford, Ind., in a summer camp for intermediate girls of the Brethren church. Mrs. Cover has worked in this camp in several different seasons, so will be no stranger there.

Two More Arrivals
Via the Warmoltz hospital at Oregon, a baby son came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Myers on Tuesday, July 11th. He weighed over 8 lbs. and has been given the name of William Joseph. Also on July 11th, a little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grigsby at the Rochelle hospital. His mother is the former Evelyn Kuhn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kuhn of the Lighthouse neighborhood. The baby has been named James Earl.
Sons and Daughters in the Service
Lieut. Elizabeth Durkes, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes, is enjoying a 15-day leave from her duties at the Newton D. Baker hospital in Martinsburg, W. Va. Daniel L. Cruise, Jr., S 2/c. son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cruise of Lee Center is home on furlough from Navy duty, somewhere in South America.
Major Ralph Orner of the U. S. Signal Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Orner of Wilmette, Ill., is spending a week's leave at the home of his parents. He is en route from duty in New Jersey where he has been stationed over two years, to a camp near Sacramento, Calif., for further assignment. His aunt, Mrs. Virgie Crawford and Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford plan to spend a day with the Orner family in Wilmette, while he is there.
The names of Charles E. Baker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Baker of this place, also Homer E. Schriver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schriver, from north of town, are in a recent list of inductees, who are to enter service soon.
Robert Wicker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wicker, has received a medical discharge from service. He hopes to take up some special line of training in the near future.
Church of the Brethren
S. L. Cover, pastor
Sunday school at 9:30 and morning worship each Sunday at 10:30. Subject, "The Fifth Commandment."
Ladies Aid will meet on Wednesday.
The two choir socials marked the close of the season, now we look forward to the opening of the new choir season about September 1st.
Circle I. W. S. C. S.
Lucile Pettenger. There were 9 members and 2 honorary members present. There was much sewing activity and some discussion of plans for the future. Through the help of Roger Taylor it was made possible to report the $50 pledge amount in the treasury. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess. The Circle will meet with Mrs. Esther Dunseth on August 10.
Mrs. Crawford Improving
The good news has been reported that Mrs. Carrie L. Crawford, who has been confined to the hospital with a fractured hip for several weeks, is much improved in health and condition, which all are glad to know. Her many friends are looking forward to her return home before long.
W. C. T. U.
The W. C. T. U. met on Friday, July 7, at the hospital home of Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Cover. Twenty-two members and guests were present. The meeting opened with the singing of "America," and salute and pledge of allegiance to the U. S. and Christian flags, led by Mrs. Cover. At the request of the devotional director, Mrs. O. D. Buck, Rev. Cover led in devotions. Roll call, "Liquor Ads," brought out a large and varied collection. A short business session followed with reports of officers. This was followed by the program of the day as arranged by the program committee. Mrs. Adeline Helmershausen and Mrs. Ruth Bell. Singing, "White Ribbon Song"—Group.
Reading, "The Little Lonesome Glass of Beer"—Judy Grady.

Bucky Walters Wins 15th of Year, 3-0, at Redbirds Expense

Hurls Fifth Shutout and Ninth Arc Victory in Defeating M. Cooper

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bucky Walters, ace pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds, has added a flock of new laurels to his already imposing string.

Last night Walters won his eighth consecutive night in defeating Mort Cooper and the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals, 3-0. It was his ninth win under the arc-lights in 10 starts this season to rank him as the king of night pitchers.

The shutout was his fifth of the year, tops for pitchers in the majors and his fifth in his career, which also makes him the shut-out king of all active hurlers in the big leagues.

It was the third time he has blanked the Cardinals this season and his fourth victory over them. The National league champions have been able to tally only once in 10 innings off the converted infielder, making but 23 hits.

Two Battles of Aces
In addition, Bucky became the first major league hurler to notch 15 victories, which puts him in line to become the first pitcher to win 30 games since Dizzy Dean of the Cards achieved that total in 1921. The Reds have completed exactly half their 1944 schedule.

In another battle of aces, the New York Yankees, behind All-Star Hank Borowy, defeated the Boston Red Sox behind their All-Star Tex Hughson, 4-3, to enable the Yankees to wrest second place from the Red Sox by a single percentage point. The victory was the first for Borowy over Hughson in three meetings, and his 12th triumph against four losses. For Hughson, it was his fourth defeat against 13 victories.

The Philadelphia Athletics upset the Washington Senators twice by the identical 4-3 score to knock the Nats out of the first division, and pull themselves out of the American league cellar.

After Luman Harris outpitched Johnny Niggeling in the opener, the A's, with Russ Christopher twirling, shattered a jinx of long standing by beating Early Wynn for the first time since he came to the majors in 1941. Previously, Wynn had defeated the Athletics 10 straight times.

White Sox Blanked
Southpaw Frank Overmire blanked the Chicago White Sox with two scratch hits to give Detroit a 2-0 victory. The defeat was the White Sox seventh in their last eight games and dropped them into last place.

Pittsburgh outscored the Chicago Cubs four to one, but the Cubs outscored the Pirates 11 to 5, ending the Bucs' five game winning streak. Tommy O'Brien hit two, and Babe Dahlgren and Pete Coscarart one each for the Pirates, while Stan Hack homered for the Cubs.

Ace Adams relieved starter Harry Feldman for the Giants in the ninth and shut off a Philly uprising to insure the New Yorkers 2-1 victory over Philadelphia and Feldman's eighth of the season. Brooklyn and Boston were not scheduled.

Cline, Nilles Clash in Women's Golf Final
Bloomington, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—A stirring rally, capped by an unerring 40-foot putt on the final green, yesterday gave 20-year-old Jeanne Cline of Bloomington her first Illinois Women's Golf Association championship in four years of campaigning.

Miss Cline, a junior at Rollins college, defeated Virginia Nilles of Evanston, 2 up, in a tense, 36-hole championship battle on the Bloomington Country club course.

A gallery of more than 1,000 saw Miss Cline twice battle back from three-hole deficits in the final 18 to deadlock the match on the 27th hole and then overpower Miss Nilles in a dramatic stretch drive.

Jeanne, who was a semi-finalist in the recent Western Women's Open, took the lead on the 28th, but lost it on the 29th. The finalists traded the next two holes and Miss Nilles also won the 32nd to lead again, one up. The 33rd was halved, but Miss Cline evaded the count on the 34th.

On the 35th, Miss Nilles virtually sealed her own fate by missing a three-footer to give Miss Cline the lead with a four. Then came Jeanne's superb putt on the 36th for the hole and championship.

Miss Cline, who once before had gained the championship round only to finish a runner-up, came back with an 80 on the closing 18 after taking an 83 on the morning flight. It was turnabout for Miss Nilles, who carded 80 on the first round and finished with an 83.

In consolation flights, Mrs. F. J. Krauss, Mrs. William Walker and Mrs. R. G. McKay, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Dan Karpen of Lincoln emerged victors.

Lincoln Highway Golf Attracts Dixonites
Tomorrow afternoon the annual Lincoln Highway Men's Golf association will hold its tournament at the Morrison Country club. Eight teams, Dekalb, Rochelle, Oregon, Polo, Sterling, Dixon, Morrison, and Clinton, will participate in the 36-hole tournament.

The tournament, which will get under way with 15 holes of play at 8:30 a. m., will be a combination individual medal score and bogey affair. Eighteen holes will also be played at 1:30 p. m.

Dixon, last year's winner and therefore the defending champions, will field a team composed of Kenneth Detweiler, Wilson Dysart, Oliver Rogers, Jr., Mark Keller, Jr., Wally Ellison and Harold Greene. Detweiler, who recently competed in the State Men's Tournament, will be number one man for Dixon.

Knacks Tackle West Brooklyn With Hi Emmert Receiving

West Brooklyn Strength Unknown, Minus Irvin 'Lefty' Knauer

Last Sunday youth . . . Lou Bevilacqua . . . was served. Tomorrow afternoon middle age . . . Hi Emmert . . . will have one last fling when Manager Emmert (he'll be 50 years old on July 29) will don enticing paraphernalia and go back to the plate to catch Doc Bloyer as Dixon trots on to the field to oppose a West Brooklyn outfit which is somewhat of a mystery. Nothing has been heard of the club and inquiries were dismissed, but Hi expects to see a fast young ball club.

Hi, a Dixon player, coach and manager for 25 years, says he has already "retired" twice but always has had the old urge to try once more, adding that this will be his final attempt to get into harness again.

Dixon, fresh off its 5 to 4 win over a foxy GROU team last Sunday, will field a strong lineup, which improves as the games roll by. Harold Prestegard, a player who is often overlooked because of his steady batting and fielding and quiet manner, will relieve Hi during the course of the game. Hi also trying his hand at second for a few innings. "Presty" is the real star of the club with his timely batting skill and ability to play any position. He is also unequaled at the important task of banging homers.

Bloyer Is Hated
Doc Bloyer should be in peak pitching form, having been rested last Sunday in favor of Lou Bevilacqua. West Brooklyn, for many years managed and aided by Irvin "Lefty" Knauer, won't look the same without the colorful vet performing on first or toeing the pitching rubber, but should put up a good fight. All baseball fans are invited to tomorrow's game.

ON THE SIDE—Jack Ware, first string receiver, is shelved with an injured finger . . . Walter Knack, team sponsor, recently bought the boys a load of new equipment, including several bats and baseballs. . . . New uniforms were unobtainable, but the Knacks have their order in for caps. . . . Another player whose work has been largely overlooked is Lyle Woodruff, who adds class to the Knack outfield and hustles all the time. . . . He can also take a mean cut at the ball. . . . GROU will meet Howe's of Rock Falls at the host diamond tomorrow afternoon. . . . This should be quite a game as Rock Falls battled Dixon to a 1 to 1 tie earlier this year. . . . Emmert is negotiating with GROU and Howe's for return games and also is trying to arrange another meeting with Compton. . . . Four Knack players—Shires Miller, Harold Prestegard, Johnny Sloan, and Doc Bloyer, will journey to Clinton, Ill., to play under the arc-lights with a Clinton team which Bloyer has an interest in. Hi Emmert will also accompany the boys.

During the invasion of Africa and subsequent battles there, an average of 64 per cent of the wounded were able to return to duty after 50 days.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
New York, July 15.—(AP)—The football Tigers (ex-Dodgers) will begin training at Abilene, Tex., Aug. 6, and General Manager Tom Gallery says he'll guarantee a weight reduction of 20 pounds per man—including himself. . . . Likely Tom would lose more 'only he'll have the privilege of staying in the air-conditioned confines of Hardin-Simmons U. while the athletes will have to venture out for morning evening workouts. . . . The Tigers also will engage the Redskins in the Rock Mountain area's first all-pro game at Ogden, Utah, Aug. 29. Gov. Herbert Maw, one of the sponsors, looks for a crowd of 18,000. . . . Add what's in a name dept.: Ty Cobb Donaldson has just been placed on the voluntary retired list of the Kingsport, Tenn., Appalachian League club.

NOMINATION 'SECONDED'
Announcing that he has signed heavyweight Tony Shucco to fight George Parks in Washington, July 24, Jimmy Johnston adds that his guy ought to get a medal. . . . Tony stiffened the German champ, Adolph Heusser, in 1933 "right in front of Coebbels and Goering, and he says he'd have done the same thing to them if he'd known what they were up to." . . . But Shucco was disqualified for what the German referee called "unfair fighting", so you can figure what would have happened if he had carried out the rest of the program.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Notre Dame's Jake Kline is making the first move to organize a college baseball coaches' association. Loud cheers. . . . Henry (Bow) Finka, Tulsa U. coach, announces a "ceiling" price of five bucks for the accumulated wisdom of eight good grid tutors for his first coaching school next month. . . . When John Lowe, 18-year-old pitcher for the Delta Rebels in New Orleans, came up with a sore right arm after pitching two no-hit games, he merely switched to southpaw hurling and won a five-hitter. . . . Brian Bell, Jr., son of the late head of The Associated Press Washington bureau, has just entered the University of Virginia. He was a three-sport athlete at Washington's western high school and editor of the school newspaper.

SERVICE DEPT.
Sgt. Taft Wright, former White Sox outfielder now at the Greensboro, N. C., overseas replacement depot, says he needed four years to make the big league grade once, and he wonders how long it will take after the war. "That job isn't going to be waiting for me", he explains.

Oma Captures Split Decision from Nova

Detroit, July 15.—(AP)—At one and the same time heavyweight Lee Oma obliged old neighbors and stuck a new feather in his hat. Oma, who began his fighting career in Detroit, added to recent successes in the east by winning a split-decision victory over Lou Nova in ten rounds here last night at Olympia stadium.

It was Oma's 19th straight victory and Nova's first defeat after 14 triumphs on a comeback. At 207 Nova had a 22-pound advantage in the weights. The 5,057 fans paid $12,730 for the show.

Referee Elmer (Slim) McClelland awarded the fight to Oma, seven rounds to two, with one round even. Judge Joe Lenahan concurred, but Judge Frank Fisher voted for Nova.

When the decision was announced in his corner.

Dr. Norman Schlafer, state boxing commissioner physician, attributed this to sheer exhaustion and put no stock in the theory that the ponderous Van Nuy, Calif., battler was stunned by what he thought a bad decision. The verdict was well received by the fans.

"It's a funny thing, though," reported Dr. Schlafer. "Nova said, 'What, they gave the decision to Savoldi?' He must have been thinking about Lee Savoldi, one of the last fighters to beat him."

Hollywood—Henry Armstrong, 136½, Los Angeles, and Luther (slugger) White, 141, Athens, Ga., drew, 10.

TOUGH LIFE
St. Louis—When owners unleashed their pets after the dog catchers quit work, Pound Superintendent Frank Funesiri ordered his staff to work nights until they could distinguish a dog lurking in the shadows.

After a three weeks' trial Ramacris said the "trouble is the whole family is also lurking around at those hours. The head of the family curses the dog catchers, the kids throw rocks and the women cry, and in the end we don't get many dogs."

Leaves from an AP War Correspondent's Notebook

With American Troops in Normandy, July 7.—(Delayed)—(AP)—The crossing of the sluggish Vire river near St. Jean de Daye—perhaps the best and most heroic job by American combat engineers in France—began three months ago in England.

Behind the successful fording of this 100-foot river lies an unusual story, illustrating the thoroughness and raw courage of these hardworking and little appreciated soldiers which enable them to accomplish their laborious battle-front construction miracles.

In Napoleon's Day, armies may have "marched on their bellies," but the modern army travels by the sweat of its engineers.

Standing by a camouflaged dugout, two engineers who helped plan and execute the job described how bridges were flung across the Vire river at dawn three days ago under hellish "88" fire so that infantry and armor could storm across and attack and take St. Jean de Daye.

They were Capt. Armand Hewett, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Capt. Palmer A. Hewlett, Portland, Ore. "It didn't take us long to span the river when work actually started," said Hewett. "We had four bridges over in slightly more than six hours—but we started preparing three months ago back in England. We studied 'photo-recon' maps of the area until
